

Rodney A. Whitacre, John, IVP New Testament Commentary 4 (Downers Grove, IL: InterVarsity Press, 1999).

Updates

Current version posted February 9, 2021

This list contains only more substantive revisions, not minor corrections such as typos. Lines with a negative number are counted from the bottom of the page.

Page

- 29 Line -6: replace “official Judaism” with:
 the dominant view within Judaism
- 64 Line -2: replace “official Judaism” with:
 the dominant view within Judaism
- 143 Line 3: replace “all but the Twelve” with:
 many
- 317 Line 12: replace “John does not suggest, however, that everyone will in fact be drawn to Jesus.” with:
 “John does not suggest, however, that everyone will respond favorably.”
- 348 Line -16: “Jesus is talking about heaven and his second coming”
 I now think this interpretation is incorrect. Throughout this chapter Jesus is speaking of the dwelling of believers with God and in God through the Spirit in this life. I develop this theme in the chapter, but add references to the future which are not clear in the text. Craig Keener offers an excellent discussion in The Gospel of John: A Commentary, Vol. 2 (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 2003), 937-39. As he notes on page 938,

 After his glorification is complete, he will come to them, manifest himself to them, and impart the Spirit to them so that they may continue in his presence (vv. 7-26). This is the only coming (v. 18, 23, 28) and dwelling place (v. 23) of which the chapter as a whole speaks, and whatever sources John may or may not have incorporated into his text, this is the only way to make sense of the text as it now stands.
- 391 Line -2: replace 14:46 with:
 14:26